MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Director for Security

STAT [ ]
STAT [ ] has reviewed the composite draft of STAT DCID 1/11 on the Security Committee and has come back with some oral STAT comments which I will try to convey in this memorandum. Meanwhile, [ ] has gone back to his desk to try another draft which will incorporate his suggestions. When he has this ready he will call you to discuss it.

STAT [ ] suggests that a statement be added to charge the Committee with responsibility for specifying and coordinating classification controls, compartmentation controls, and dissemination controls. I'm not sure I understand everything he has in mind, but he is thinking in part, at least, of such things as "Eyes Only," "release to," "sensitive" and other similar kinds of controls stamps. The objective would be to reduce the number and variety of these kinds of controls and introduce some standardization and compatibility among them.

The clause beginning after the first semicolon in paragraph 2 should be inverted and reworded to say "to promote practical means for the implementation of these duties and responsibilities through development of coordinated security standards and practices."

He suggests that footnote 2 be left in to serve as a cross-reference and that the first three words "in coordination with," be deleted and the word "which" be deleted at the end of the first line.

STAT [ ] suggests that the phrase "and to a practical extent common procedures" be restored at the end of paragraph 2. I said I thought that phrase would be a burden of detail that a committee shouldn't have to be concerned about. I said I didn't think the Committee should attempt to concern itself with the internal procedures of the several

STAT departments and agencies and that CIA for one would not take kindly to being told by a community committee what procedures it should employ. I cited the new [ ] as an example of our different implementation of the Government order, giving a couple of specific examples. He acknowledged that this point may have some validity but feels that the phrase "to a practical extent" is an adequate qualifier. He also feels that "procedures" should be restored to paragraph 3. a. but will accede to the inserting of "to a practical extent."

In paragraph 3. c. he feels the words "and practices" should be restored in both places. He wants the last clause "and to the effectiveness, risk, cost and efficiency considerations involved" restored. Effectiveness and efficiency could be deleted but he says he is quite certain that his superiors in the IC Staff will insist upon having the Committee assume some responsibility for risk and cost.

STAT [ ] questions the deletion from paragraph 3. c. of the words "and their contractors" at the beginning of the third line. I said that contractors are considered to be an extension of Government departments and agencies who are required to comply with the rules imposed by the contractual relationship and there is no way the Committee can exercise any influence over contractors except through the contracting agency; there may even be legal impediments to the exercise of any Committee influence over contractors. Acknowledging this point to some extent, [ ] nevertheless is insistent that some language be included to clarify contractor relationships. STAT

STAT [ ] feels the last two lines of paragraph 3. e. should be restored. He says that other DCID's are being drafted to require other committees to consult with the Security Committee on technical measures and he feels the statement is needed here to provide "the other side of the coin."

In paragraph f. he suggests deletion of the last three words "through the USIB" because they want this to be a candid report from the Chairman to the Director.

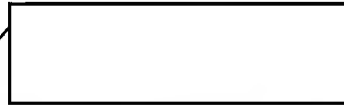

Paragraph 4 should be restored as a means of giving the Committee some power to get what information it needs to fulfill its responsibilities. The language in paragraph 4 has been adopted and will be included in the DCID's governing all of the other committees.

I am sure you will do a much better job at representing your views than I have done and I can't say that I am reluctant to get out of the middle.
